

Future perfect continuous: exercise 4

<https://www.e-grammar.org/future-perfect-continuous/>

Key with answers

Exercise 4

When it stops raining in the morning, it will have been raining for 24 hours.

I will have been learning French for seven years before I leave school.

In a two years's time we will have been living at this place for two decades.

By the time you get up I will have been working in my office for a couple of hours.

On Friday the farmer's family will have been picking strawberries for a week.

Darren will have been sailing on his yacht for a month when he lands in Monaco.

The computer will have been updating its operating system for about five minutes before it starts working.

By the end of this year we will have been using the Internet for twenty years.

In July Maggie will have been singing in the choir for a year.

Shall I turn off the gas? The water will have been boiling for twenty minutes at 10.15.