

Past simple and continuous: exercise 1

Key with answers. _____

As I was coming to the station, a car stopped behind me. A man wearing sunglasses got out of the car and said: "Mike, what are you doing here?"

My grandma never watched TV. But she read books.

When I started work at 6 o'clock this morning, the sun was shining.

My mum got up and switched off the light.

When I finished my homework, I cooked dinner for my sister.

While we were listening to the news, the telephone rang. Kate stood up and answered it.

As I was driving to work last Friday, a car crashed in front of me. I stepped on the brakes.

As Betty was leaving her house on the way to work, she left the door open.

When she came back home in the evening, a dog was sitting in the middle of the living room.

Yesterday Carrol wrote emails from 10 to 11 and then from 5 to 7 again.

We arrived in Cannes at 2.30. The sun was shining, people were sunbathing on the beach and big yachts were sailing near the harbour. We parked our car and went to the beach.