

First conditional: exercise 5

Key with answers

Will you tell me, if you go out?

If Sarah doesn't reply to my email, I'll phone her.

Suppose the plane lands on time, we'll catch the 10 o'clock train.

Nobody will believe you unless you always tell the truth.

Providing everybody comes to the party, how many chairs will we need?

OK, you can drive my car on condition that you don't drive fast.

If we are late for the meeting, we'll let you know.

I'll take my credit card in case I run out of cash.

Your purse will get stolen unless you are carefull.

What will you do if Peter isn't in his office?

Our tip: www.e-grammar.org/pdf-books/ All PDF exercises + grammar rules in one place.